Teaching the Holocaust in Jewish Day Schools and Supplemental Jewish Educational Programs

New approaches and resources from Yad Vashem

Presented in partnership with the renowned international school for Holocaust Studies (Jewish World Section) at Yad Vashem, this two-day institute is designed for educators in Jewish schools and supplemental Jewish educational programs to explore and gain access to a range of classroom content, and consider the proper educational methods and pedagogical resource in teaching about the Holocaust, according to Yad Vashem's age-appropriate and interdisciplinary methods.

Workshop Topics include:

- The Holocaust: Yad Vashem's Educational Methodology
- Antisemitism
- Holocaust Education in a world without Survivors: Two Approaches
- "Every day Heroines: Dilemmas of Jewish Women in the Ghettos"
- Rabbinical Leadership During the Shoah
- Five Theological approaches to the Shoah (High School)

Completion of this institute qualifies participants to access all of Yad Vashem's resources including the latest tools and digital resource materials.
